Presidential Ponderings

Happy New Year! The glittery nail polish is still on my nails and sends off shimmers of light with every movement. What a great way to start the year and be the light for someone or see the light in others.

A new year, new opportunities, new directions and N.E.W. is ready to deliver its first Say What? Business Summit on January 17th. Have you seen the promotional pieces? Have you read the bios on our Speakers? Have you registered for this limited seating event? This committee has excelled in presenting a first class professional development event at an incredible price. I am looking forward to improving my communication skills and revel in the effect that it will have on my bottom line.

Although I am sure that many of us are planning to attend, this is one of the few events that will be open to men. Take advantage of this fact and let's promote this event OUTSIDE of our group. Wouldn't it be great to have some "outside" funds to be applied to our Scholarship budget? And remember, since our Monster Bash was just held in October, after the Summit, we will not be holding any other major fundraisers until the Fall of 2019!

REGISTER TODAY and spread the word. Will you commit to registering yourself and at least one other person?

Thank you for your support of this event and this wonderful organization. See you tomorrow!
